Canning Club Girls Win Free Scholarships

Miss Stella Mims, the capable Home Demonstration Agent for this County, has announced that the judges have awarded the short course canning scholarships at Winthrop College to Miss Lexie Pittman and Miss Clara Watson, with Miss Nanoline Tyler as alternate.

Miss Mims has sixty earnest workers who have their tomato plots in thriving condition. Many of the girls had trouble getting their plants up during dry season but by perseverance—watering of the seed bed, etc.—all the girls finally secured a full stand for their tenth acre. A visit to the various plots of the tomato girls throughout the County will convince the most skeptical that the good work is making rapid progress.

The ten day scholarship that has been won by Misses Pittman and Watson is given by the United States government as prizes for the two girls who have made the most advancement to date with their plots and kept the best record, together with a history of the crop. The railroad and hotel expenses of these young ladies enroute to and from will be paid by the Chesterfield County Fair Association. Mr. C. L. Hunley, Secretary of the Fair announces that the Fair Association is glad to do this as they want to do all in their power to encourage the Home Demonstration work along with the agricultural interest of Chesterfield County.

New Primary Rules; All Voters Must Enroll

Mt. Croghan, June 12th. Editor The Advertiser:

I desire space in your paper to call the attention of the Democratic voters of Chesterfield county to the fact that the new rules of the party adopted by the last Democratic State Convention require that every person who votes in the coming primary election shall enroll himself on the book of his precinct or polling place, by writing his name in full, his age, occupation, and post office address. If he is unable to write, then by making his mark to the same before the last Tuesday in July of election years.

Now Mr. Editor I had the honor of being a member of the State Democratic Convention two years ago when the rule requiring primary election participants to enroll under their own hand and I remember very well that the great argument used in favor of passing the enrollment rule, was that the roll so made up would be filed with the Clerk of Court for each county and would become the permanent Democratic Club Roll for such county except such as should be added from one election year to another, who might become of age, transfer or move in between such election years, and that the books of enrollment would remain open until five days preceding the first primary. I very well remember the task some of us had in getting all those who were qualified to enroll themselves so that they could participate in the elections.

Now again this year the same difficult task is to go over again with the further added disadvantage that the time for enrolling is cut down, instead of the books of enrollment being opened during the political campaign, while the matter is fresh upon the minds of those who can vote and during the leisure of laying by season, when people get together and discuss men and measures and interest in the elections are at its highest pitch, when every one is interested enough to see after this important factor in his right to say who shall rule over him.

We have under the new rules the spectacle of the books closing the last Tuesday in July one whole month before the primary being opened, only in a time when those who are making their living by farming are busily engaged in the cultivation and harvesting of their crops, and when their minds are occupied more with their business than anything else. This in my opinion is wrong and especially so towards those who live in the rural districts of our county.

I want to impress upon every white man in Chesterfield county the importance of seeing to it that he is properly enrolled. Don't put it off, nor delay because the time slips away, and almost before you are aware of it the time for enrolling will be passed and then no matter how much you may desire to vote in the primary for the man of your choice you will be debarred unless you are properly enrolled.

And besides, this enrollment will be your membership in your club and will allow you to participate in the election of your club officers and delegates to your next County Convention and from there to the next State Convention where I hope some steps will be taken to correct some of these apparent evils.

Respectfully,

J. Clifton Rivers

New Summer Course at Winthrop

In a new summer course at Winthrop the faculty will present material from the standpoint of the woman in the home who wishes to serve home and community in adequate fashion. The offerings will comprise the purely cultural, the practical, and the spiritual.

This course will be given during the summer session of this year. It will begin Tuesday, June 27th, and end Saturday July 8th.

It will present an opportunity for as serious study as the women desire or just for attendance on the open lectures and the lighter offerings. In either case, a woman will get many suggestions which will help her to keep abreast of the times.

A few of the subjects to be studied are: The Family Budget, Home Nursing, Health Essentials, Care of Milk and Butter Making, Bread Making, Balanced Menus for the Family, Economy and Taste in Dress, Kindergarten Methods in the Home.

There are also interesting offerings under the heads of Art, Literature, Civics and Recreation. Women planning to attend are requested to notify D. B. Johnson, president of Winthrop Normal and Industrial College.

Milk Cows—will have some fine ones in a few days.

Note—The following letter was accidentally left out of the paper last week, much to our regret.—Ed.

The closing exercises of the graded school here were unusually interesting. They began on Friday evening May 26th with songs by the school and and drills by the primary department.

On Saturday was Farmers' Day the address by Prof. V. E. Rector and R. W. Elliot were enjoyed by a large crowd.

Saturday night the Audience was entertained by Miss Cogburn's music class and other exercises by the school. The Rev. A. S. Thomas, of the Episcopal church in Cheraw, preached the baccalaureate sermon to a large audience in the school building Sunday.

Monday evening the exercises closed. Mr. Swearingen gave us a most instructive address, Salutatory, valedictory and essays were read by Misses Rochelle McLeod and Mabel Raley, who have the honor of being the first graduates from this school. Diplomas were presented by State Superintendent Swearingen. The Rev. A. S. Thomas, of the Methodist church, presented the medals given by Mrs. Cogburn to her music pupils. The happy recipients of these medals were Misses Louise Eaves, Susie Hubbard, Inez Coward and Lou Doris King. Prof. Cogburn has been re-elected principal for another year. The other teachers elected are Miss S. Varn, of Islandton, for the sixth and seventh grades; Miss Bertha West, of Chesterfield, to teach the third, fourth and fifth grades, and Miss Mary Bell Fuller, of Laurens, to teach the primary.

The marriage of Miss Mare Edgeworth and Miss Ed McDonald, of Hamlet, N. C., came as a surprise to their friends. The marriage was solemnized in the Episcopal church in Cheraw, on Thursday evening May 25th. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. S. Thomas, the pastor of the bride. The bride was charming in her traveling suit of midnight blue. Mrs. McDonald was one of Mr. Bee's most popular and attractive young ladies, and was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Edgeworth. Mr. McDonald holds a responsible position with the S. A. L. R. R. and is liked by all who know him. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McDonald were given a reception at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. Thomas. The happy couple left on the 8:30 o'clock train for Baltimore and New York. Upon their return they will make their home in Hamlet, N. C.

Those who attended the marriage from here were Mr. and Mrs. Edgeworth, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McCoy, Mrs. B. H. Turnage and Misses Elliott and Corrie Hardy, Annie Jeune and Mary Guy Robertson.
